How did I get the idea ^ start the company? Well, I became very interested in computers since I was Young, and my interest soon develops into a business opportunity. I wanted to learn as more as I could about PCs, so I would take it apart and then rebuild them with enhanced components. At that time a PC sold in store for about $3000, so I noticed the Components could bought for $700. I again noticed that the people operated computer stores didn't know much ^ PCs and couldn't offer much in the way of support, I figured so that if I could build my own machines, I could compete with the computer store not just on price, but on quality and service. He didn't know, at age eighteen, how big an opportunity would become, but I knew that was how I wanted to do.
